

7th International Conference on Neurology and Epidemiology

19-20 March 2021

Terms of use

ICNE 2021 Conference is accessible to all interested delegates. ICNE is a vital occasion to bring together more than 600 leading The main topics of the conference are all major neurological disorders, including stroke, dementia, movement disorders, epilepsy, headache.

This international conference will provide an excellent opportunity for neurologists, public health experts, neurosurgeons, epidemiologists, neuropsychologists, rehabilitation specialists, geriatricians, nurses, aged care specialists and health care providers working in the area of experimental and non-experimental epidemiology of neurological disorders to share their new ideas, research findings and experience.

We believe the virtual International Conference on Neurology & Epidemiology will be a great success and look forward to meeting you online.

By agreeing to the terms of use, you gain full use of virtual conference functions and agree to being tracked for non-nominative analytics used by ICNE and ICNE 2021 Conference Organizers. Non-nominative tracking data may include profession, organization, department, city, country, etc.

On certain sections of this site your nominative data (e.g. your name and/or your Email address) could be shown to others (e.g. in the chat or in the Email field to ePoster authors for ex.) and by using certain features you agree to such.

At certain points you may be prompted to share your nominative and contact (e.g. email) information with third parties.